

Take a look

I'm trying to write about my trials and tribulations pruning sage (Salvia). While looking for pictures of my wild sages as they mature I came across this: a lynx spider feasting on a wasp. Had to stop and upload it.

